A lot has happened in 2025. Yet, arguably the most substantial event(s) is something you've never heard of. And something that media outlets are scarcely covering. It's one of the most substantial heists in human history. And even though it took place in the United States, it will have ripple effects across the globe.

And it starts with a secretive company named Palantir.

These videos take a monumental amount of time, and these topics are always a risky endeavor on YouTube. Consider supporting the channel for as little as a coffee a month. You get some cool perks and it allows me to make these videos safely without fear of having to water down and filter topics. Consider supporting here:

Palantir ain't being quiet anymore. I work at an airport and every single day now I see Palantir ads on giant screens claiming they're "revitalizing American industry" while of course showing a bunch of robot arms building cars.
Why does it feel like we're entering the dark ages all over again?

Focusing on one man as the enemy is your biggest mistake. There is a group of them it's not just one person.
